

Portfolio Objective & Strategy

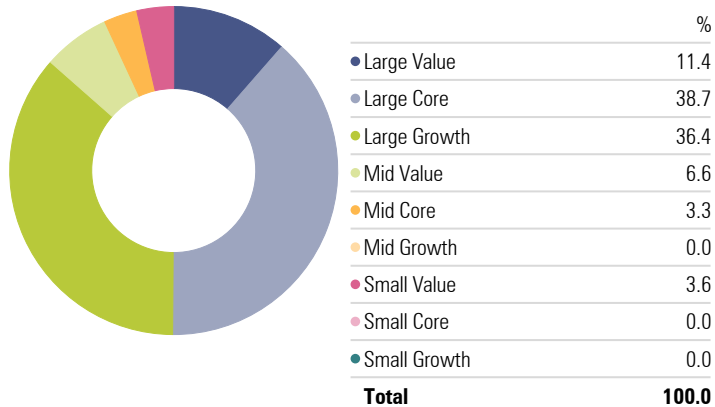

The Macroeconomic Portfolio seeks to outperform the S&P 500 benchmark in a variety of market environments. To accomplish this objective the manager utilizes a top-down investment process that focuses on what the manager believes are the most important determinants of portfolio return: style, sector and stock selection. Strategy goals include: the potential for excess returns in a variety of market environments, a top down process designed to maximize diversification benefits, and a broad mandate with the goal of increasing the probability of beating the S&P 500 benchmark. The manager believes traditional security research is most effective when used to complement higher-level portfolio themes, rather than as the sole focus of the investment process. The result is a portfolio that reflects the manager's highest conviction ideas in the current market environment.
