

Objective & Strategy

This strategy seeks to generate both income and growth by maximizing risk-adjusted total return over a full market cycle. Accordingly, the strategy is invested in a selection of Convertible Security Funds. Convertible bonds may appeal to investors who are interested in the income and risk characteristics of a debt instrument but want to potentially participate in some of the growth offered by common stock.

The prices of convertible securities in the fund's portfolio may fall or fail to risk over extended periods of time for a variety of reasons, including both general financial market conditions and factors related to specific companies or industries. These risks are generally greater for convertible securities issued by small and midsize companies. Convertible securities are subject to credit risk, which is the risk that an issuer of the fund's investments may default on payment of interest or principal. CAR 1119-01728
